Regence awards Pacific University $94,000 to open diabetes clinic for uninsured and underserved

Clinic to treat all aspects of diabetes and break down barriers to health care in Latino and other underserved communities throughout Washington County, Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. - The Regence Foundation awarded a $94,000 grant to Pacific University for its Interdisciplinary Diabetes Clinic, scheduled to open in Hillsboro next spring. The safety-net clinic will be open to anyone with diabetes, with a primary focus on providing affordable care to Latinos and other underserved populations with diabetes.

The grant was announced during a check presentation ceremony featuring Regence of Oregon president Jared Short and Pacific University president Lesley Hallick at Regence BlueCross BlueShield of Oregon's Portland branch.
